

FRYEBURG FLIVER

AT HOME, ABROAD, OR OVER THE RIVER,
THERE'S NOTHING EQUALS THE FRYEBURG FLIVER.

Editorial

The Fryeburg road crews have been hard at work on the village streets. The street on which the Fliver Plant is located, which has been impossible all summer, is impassible now.

The other streets have good hard road beds (especially hard on horses and automobile springs) and although the going is pretty rough, the road commissioners will try and smooth things over before town-meeting day.

The many Fryeburgers who attended the hotel Randall fire at North Conway, could not help being favorably impressed by the efficiency of the Conway fire brigade.

The "pumper" from Conway, Conn., performed "yeoman" service in checking the flames and in saving the adjoining buildings, while the volunteers fire fighters gave the impression of being an organized body of men, who knew what they were about.

But what if they had summoned aid from this busy town? Our pump and hose have responded, noble without doubt, but to what avail? They could have "tooted" loudly on the new five hundred dollar "whistle," but that comprises the sum total of our modern equipment.

In summing up our fire protection we find that although we have a Village Fire Corporation, whose avowed purpose is to afford fire protection, and whose assets are: a new and beautifully toned "siren," but no alarm system by which we can tell in which direction assistance is needed; a fire chief (hardly any one knows who he is, but we suppose he is Judge Mason or Frank Peterson or Noah McDonald or some one else) with absolutely no organized body of fire fighters; and we have an ancient hose reel and a hydrant system with a very uncertain gravity pressure.

That, gentle reader, is the extent of our fire protection. We can feel justly proud of our school system, which is second to none. We have beautiful sidewalks and well kept streets. Should we not offer a prayer, at least, for our fire department.

Loony Lim-ricks

A fellow sat down at the table
And ate everything he was able.
That night, in a dream,
He dreamed: "A nightmare."

Mustn't mistook my friends for a stable.
There was a young man from Fryeburg
Who had not a word for a friend.

Till his Ma, with a thimble
And finger quite nimble,
Proceeded, this lady ways to m. n.

There was an old 2-cent from the Harbor.
Who seldom stepped in to the barber.
His beard grew, luxuriant,
But what seemed most curious,
The squirrels used it, for an arbor.

When November days are dreary,
And the sun seems out of style,
Your sweet face, with a smile,
If you spare to park a smile.

How lonely is our Fred-rick,
As he hears the wedding chimes,
And Mackie dear, I greatly fear
Will sail for southern climes.

They've lost their chance for good and all,
Yes, Fredrick, Mackie and Brewster,
And how they sob and sigh—too late,
Because they didn't woo her.

Beauce Neighborhood
Harry Beauce Has Hand Mangled in Saw

Ralph Wheeler Able to Move—Roads in Bad Shape Since the Rain.

Miss Mary Drake, the teacher here, and Miss Julia Bryant of Hartford spent the week end in Lewiston.

Harry Beauce met with a bad accident at his mill, Friday. He was sawing up slabs and in some way, he does not know how, his right hand was caught and dreadfully mangled. The forefinger was torn completely off, the two middle fingers badly crushed, also the thumb. Earl Gurney, who happened to be at the mill, took Mr. Beauce to Mechanic Falls as quickly as possible, where Dr. Rankin administered ether and dressed the wound.

Mr. Beauce was in a good deal of pain for a few days, but is feeling quite a lot better at this time, Monday. He hopes to save the two middle fingers, but is not certain yet.

Ralph Wheeler, who had rheumatic fever last summer, and has been confined to his bed ever since, unable to move himself until lately, has so far recovered that he walked across the room to the couch, with assistance, last week. He can now move his arms around, but cannot use his hands or straighten his fingers, but he hopes before long to be able to use them. His friends are much pleased at his recovery and hope before long to see him out once more.

Everyone who could, went to the town house, Monday, to vote against Daylight Saving time.

The rains of last week and the warmer weather have made the traveling very bad in this vicinity.

There is no better evidence of a commendable community spirit than that of the people of a town in which a person lives. If a town is worth living in it is worth defending and supporting in its efforts to advance with the rest of the world.

Suggestion First Class

The following letter was received and it is a good suggestion and we give it place:

"I have read so much in your paper about boosting our own home town that I would like to suggest, if the merchants and business men would start an industry here, so the citizens of the town would have plenty of work, instead of loafing half of the time and living the other half on promises, that would be a good way to boost Norway."

"Under the present conditions, families are leaving Norway because they can not get a living here."
"Just start some industry and keep the citizens to work and have a big pay roll. Have it the year around, then you could talk about boosting the town, and not until then."
"Why don't someone start something? Something has got to be done to boost Norway and keep the people here."
—A Citizen.

Perhaps I am, but still think it worth holding, for it's on the 'Great White Way' Central Ave., towards Pasadena."

Lesson for December 13

PAUL IN MELITA AND ROME

LESSON TEXT—Acts 28:1-31.

GOLDEN LEAF—The advanced of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation, to every one that believeth.—Rom. 1:16.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Paul the Helper. JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul in the World's Capital. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A Prisoner Preaching the Gospel. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Power of the Gospel.

1. The Shipwreck on Melita (vv. 1-10).

Through the storm they lost their belongings, and when they were alone on the island they learned that the island was called Melita. Their experiences here may be noted as follows:

1. The Hospitable Reception of the Natives (v. 2).

They built a fire and made the shipwrecked people as comfortable as possible in the cold and rain.

2. Paul Gathering Sticks for a Fire (v. 3).

The world's greatest preacher and missionary, yet he was not above picking up sticks for a fire. All along the journey Paul busied himself in doing all that he could to help some of the natives.

3. Paul Bitten by a Venomous Serpent (v. 3).

Among the sticks that Paul gathered was a serpent. Perhaps it had been ready coiled itself up for its winter's sleep, but aroused by the warmth of the fire, it darted at Paul and coiled its fangs upon his hand. This was a serious thing. The natives expected to see him fall down dead, yet he spoke off unharmed. At first the natives concluded that he was an escaped murderer, and that retributive justice was being meted out to him. When they saw he was unharmed they concluded that he was a god. In the popular mind a man so possessed with a revelation is true.

4. Paul Heals Publius' Father (vv. 7-10).

These people now received some return for their kindness. When this man of note was healed, others came and were healed also.

11. Paul's Arrival at Rome (vv. 11-13).

When Paul reached Rome Christ's charge to the disciples was fulfilled. After three months' stay at Melita Paul departed for Rome in the ship of Alexandria, whose sign was Castor and Pollux. At Syracuse they were delayed three days, perhaps for favorable winds. At Patroli he found brethren at whose request he tarried several days, after which he again set his face towards Rome. At Apollonia he met three Taver brethren from Rome met him. From Puteoli he learned the news before of Paul's coming, and so interested were they that they came for more than forty miles to meet him and gave God thanks. He greatly craved the fellowship of other Christians and was much helped in his missionary life that thus welcomed him.

12. Paul's Ministry in Rome (vv. 17-22).

He did not as usual wait for the Sabbath day to speak to the Jews. He allowed only one day for rest, his object being to have a fair understanding with them. When they came he endeavored to conciliate them. He told them that though he came as a prisoner, he was not a criminal. Though his own countrymen had caused his life he did not come with accusations against them. The result of this interview was that he expressed a desire to hear what Paul could say in defense of a sect which was everywhere spoken against.

2. Paul Expounding the Kingdom of God and Persuading Concerning Jesus (vv. 23-31).

He pointed out a real kingdom—the Messianic kingdom with the historic Jesus as the king. The kingdom to Paul meant a definite reign of a definite person, not simply an improved state of society. This he showed from the Scriptures.

Small Things: Great Things

You are waiting to do some great thing; you are waiting to pull down some great evil. Perform the small things that are unseen, and they will bring other and greater things for you to perform.—John Bright.

Leading Us Along

In denying ourselves, Jesus is not asking us to limit ourselves. He is, rather, leading us along the road in which we shall find self.—G. Glenn Atkins.
